Review:

I don't usually leave reviews, but I feel like people need to know. The Mothers Favorite was a disaster, and not in the fun kind of way. The The Kitchen Sink was missing, and they tried to swap it with something I didn't ask for.

The The Classic was greasy and overcooked.

For what I paid, I expected something halfway decent - this wasn't it.

I had high hopes based on the reviews, but the experience was kind of a mixed bag. The The Kitchen Sink looked great but lacked seasoning. The texture just felt off.

The Mothers Favorite was better, I'll give them that, but the The Classic was a little dry for my taste.

Staff were friendly, but the wait was longer than expected and the vibe was kind of chaotic.

Honestly, not bad - but not great either. The Gyro Plate came out a little lukewarm. I hate when that happens. Props for the The King Combo though, that was tasty.

I also had the Greek Salad, which was okay, but kind of greasy.

Overall, it felt a bit overpriced for the quality.

This was a total miss for me. The Lean Chicken Tikka Masala was borderline inedible - dry, bland, and somehow overcooked.

I waited ages only to find out they forgot the Combination Curry. When I finally got it, it was cold.

The Tandoori Mixed Grill didn't help either - too salty and just sad looking.

Atmosphere felt rushed, and the staff barely acknowledged the issues. Never again.

I'm usually skeptical about food trucks, but wow - this one blew me away. The Pastrami was ridiculously good, like, I'd drive across town just to get it again.

I also had the Hot Ham & Cheese, which was super fresh and flavorful. The Italian surprised me the most - not something I'd usually order, but I'm glad I did.

Staff were quick, warm, and seemed to genuinely enjoy what they were doing. 10/10 would recommend if you're anywhere near this truck.

The food here felt like a warm hug. That Tandoori Mixed Grill hit all the right notes - spicy, tender, and full of flavor.

The Lean Chicken Tikka Masala was good too, not my favorite, but still solid.

And let's not forget the Combination Curry - sweet, crunchy, and just what I needed to wrap up the meal.

The atmosphere was casual and welcoming. Totally worth the stop.
