Honestly, not bad - but not great either. The Lean Chicken Tikka Masala came out a little lukewarm. I hate when that happens. Props for the Tandoori Mixed Grill though, that was tasty.

I also had the Combination Curry, which was okay, but kind of greasy.

Overall, it felt a bit overpriced for the quality.

I'm usually skeptical about food trucks, but wow - this one blew me away. The The King Combo was ridiculously good, like, I'd drive across town just to get it again.

I also had the Gyro Plate, which was super fresh and flavorful. The Greek Salad surprised me the most - not something I'd usually order, but I'm glad I did.

Staff were quick, warm, and seemed to genuinely enjoy what they were doing. 10/10 would recommend if you're anywhere near this truck.

This was a total miss for me. The Mothers Favorite was borderline inedible - dry, bland, and somehow overcooked.

I waited ages only to find out they forgot the The Kitchen Sink. When I finally got it, it was cold.

The The Classic didn't help either - too salty and just sad looking.

Atmosphere felt rushed, and the staff barely acknowledged the issues. Never again.

The food here felt like a warm hug. That Spicy Miso Vegetable Ramen hit all the right notes - spicy, tender, and full of flavor.

The Tonkotsu Ramen was good too, not my favorite, but still solid.

And let's not forget the Creamy Chicken Ramen - sweet, crunchy, and just what I needed to wrap up the meal.

The atmosphere was casual and welcoming. Totally worth the stop.

I don't usually leave reviews, but I feel like people need to know. The The Classic was a disaster, and not in the fun kind of way. The Mothers Favorite was missing, and they tried to swap it with something I didn't ask for.

The The Kitchen Sink was greasy and overcooked.

For what I paid, I expected something halfway decent - this wasn't it.
